MFO funding plea is kicked out by judge

BY JULIA SUTTON

editor@lsmmedia.co.uk

THE organiser of a Brazilian-style jobs creation scheme planned for one of Luton's estates has lost his legal battle to prevent £750,000 of public funding being given to other projects.

Glenn Jenkins, director of The Marsh Farm Outreach (MFO) project, wanted to set up an 'Organisational Workshop' (OW) on the housing estate to provide more than 60 jobs and encourage entrepreneurship.

But the £750,000 of public money he hoped would be pumped into the scheme was pulled at the last minute by Marsh Farm Community Development Trust (MFCDT), which was set up to manage government funding on the estate.

Mr Jenkins, one of a number of directors of MFO, took the funding body to the High Court saying the government money should not be given to other organisations.

But, despite criticising the financial management of MFCDT, Judge Mark Ockelton on Friday refused to prevent it paying out elsewhere the money MFO claimed had been earmarked for them.

Judge Ockelton told the court the MFO's Organisational Workshop idea had worked well in the slums of Brazil, but had not been attempted in the UK or Europe.

Despite twice being turned down for funding, MFO said its long battle for financial support seemed to be over when they were told at a meeting in October last year that they would get the money.

The court heard MFCDT originally said they were likely to get more than £750,000 from the government pot, but later pulled the plug after doubts were raised about MFO's financial status, which the latter said had been fully resolved.

Mr Jenkins brought the case for judicial review claiming he had a 'legitimate expectation' that his group would be given the money.

But Judge Ockelton ruled MFCDT had not acted unlawfully, pointing out that all the funding was subject to alterations, and needed final government approval.

He said: "After all the events that have happened the claimants have a legitimate reason to feel very disappointed, but that does not mean they can prove a legitimate expectation."

Despite finding in favour of MFCDT, the judge criticised the body's financial management and described the evidence as 'troubling'.

He told the court the trust seemed to have earmarked more cash for regeneration projects than it could afford.

The judge concluded by paying tribute to those attempting to set up the scheme, saying: "It has to be hoped that in the not too distant future they are to be given funding from a body that can actually deliver it."

Mr Jenkins vowed to continue his attempts to bring the South American scheme to Marsh Farm.

He said: "I hope, on the back of the judge's comments, we can find an organisation that are capable of funding it."

"It is the people of Marsh Farm that are the winners or losers in this situation, and we'll keep working for them."

The judge ordered MFO to pay the MFCDT's legal costs.

Wall of silence over Hatters' centre cash

EXCLUSIVE

BY LUI STRACCIA

lui.straccia@Lutononsunday.co.uk

LUTON Town is refusing to say how it dealt with 'allegations and issues' concerning £30,000 which allegedly went missing from its Girls' Centre of Excellence.

We can also reveal the annual charity and company accounts of Luton Town FC Community Trust, which ran the centre up until a year ago, are long overdue - and the Trust's board of trustees and company directors are refusing to comment.

The FA annually funds the centre for eight to 16 year olds, based in Kenilworth Road, with a 'substantial grant' and licenses it to the Hatters, whose investor Bob Curson, pictured, is the chairman of the board of trustees.

In a statement Mr Curson, speaking as a trustee, said: 'A year ago the Charity was running at a financial deficit caused by excessive overheads.

'The Trustees took corrective financial action, reduced overheads, and modified activities to ensure the community and the Girls' Centre of Excellence programmes remained completely unaffected. Indeed we have been given a clean bill of health by The FA.'

On the Charity Commission website it lists Stuart Smith, Luton Town FC Community Trust's former Football and Community Development Officer, as its point of contact.

When we contacted Mr Smith, who now coaches under-13s, he said: 'It's nothing to do with me. I don't work with the Trust now. I was made redundant from the Trust more than a year ago.'

In February 2010, Luton on Sunday revealed a member of staff at the centre was suspended in November 2009 after concerns were raised over its finances while The FA held an inquiry.

When asked if he was the formerly suspended staff member in question, Mr Smith said: 'I'm not going to get into a discussion over this.'

The Trust should have posted its accounts on the Charity Commission website for 2008/09 390 days ago, and for 2009/10 25 days ago. On Companies House, it should have filed its accounts for last year by December 31, 2010. In both cases they are overdue.

The Trust was set up 'for the benefit of the Bedfordshire public generally. . . to promote community participation in healthy recreation by providing facilities for the playing of association football and other sports capable of improving health'.

An FA spokesman said: 'In this case the licence holder is Luton Town FC. In regard to the allegations and issues concerned, I understand that this was dealt with by Luton Town. Our role has purely been to ensure that the provision of a girls' centre of excellence has been maintained.'

The spokesman did not disclose the nature of the 'allegations and issues'.

When we told The FA the club had refused to comment on how it dealt with the allegations, The FA refused to comment.

The Trust's auditors, Luton-based accountants Foxley Kingham, also refused to comment.

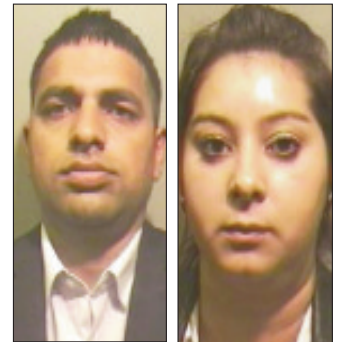

Paul Moore, chairman of fans' group Trust in Luton which donated £500 to the Trust three years ago, said: 'TIL has absolutely no input into the centre at all. It's nothing to do with us.'

'We've made a small donation of £500 in the past, but it's up to them what they do with it. I understand there was an issue and I don't know exactly what happened. We've got better things to worry about and it's not one of our primary concerns at the moment.'

Also on the board of trustees is Helen Barnett, chief executive of Active Luton (the town's sports, leisure and fitness provider), which now operates the centre. She was unavailable for comment on Friday.

A police spokeswoman said they 'cannot comment as to whether or not there is a police investigation'.

The FA is currently reviewing how to reduce the number of Girls' Centres of Excellence from 52 to 32.

PRISON: Bilal Bashir and Bozena Horvatova

Sham marriage bid ends in jail

TWO people were jailed on Friday for plotting to stage a sham marriage.

Both Pakistani national Bilal Bashir, 23, of Connaught Road, Luton, and Slovakian woman Bozena Horvatova, 24, of no fixed address, were each jailed for 12 months when they appeared at Luton Crown Court.

Both had pleaded guilty at an earlier hearing to charges of conspiring to facilitate a breach of UK immigration law.

Officers from the UK Border Agency's Immigration Crime Team swooped on the George Street West register office on November 2 just before Bashir and Horvatova were due to marry.

Agency spokesman Ian Williams said: 'Horvatova and Bashir are no one's idea of a loving couple.'

'You would expect the bride and groom in a genuine marriage to know each other inside out, but not only could they not agree on when and where they first met, they also failed to give accurate information on where the other lived.'

'Bashir could not even pronounce his fiancée's name correctly.'

Bashir, who had stayed illegally in the UK after his visa expired, had hoped his marriage to an EU national would aid his bid to gain long-term residency in the UK with the associated rights to work and claim benefits.

'Arsonists' strike as old bar goes up in flames

AN investigation is underway after a blaze tore through a derelict pub on Friday morning.

Three fire crews responded to a report of a fire at the disused Eddie's Bar in Church Street, Luton, at around 3.40am.

Firefighters tackled the flames for nearly three hours with it finally being extinguished at 6.20am.

The building had 30 per cent damage to its second floor and roof.

Police are treating the incident as arson and Detective Constable Duncan Crighton, investigating, said the building has now been boarded up but he is keen to trace people who saw anyone acting suspiciously in the area prior to the fire.

Anyone with information should contact Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Police figures reveal almost 100 kids accused of violence

MORE than 90 children under the age of ten were accused of violence against a person last year, according to shocking figures revealed by Bedfordshire Police.

Statistics released under the Freedom of Information Act also show 45 kids were accused of sexual offences and 29 were accused of theft and handling.

Four children were also accused of robbery, four for criminal damage, two for burglary and one for fraud and racial crime. There are no figures immediately available on how many of these children were charged or convicted. Patsy McKie, who is one of the founders of campaign group Mothers Against Violence, said: "I am saddened by these figures.

"I believe what we should be looking at is the reason for this behaviour.

"In the question between nature and nurture I think it's definitely nurture.

"Children sit down and imitate what they see and they can be very much influenced by what they see on TV or video games.

"They can be influenced in a bad way and a good way. We need to deal with this at a family level with young people.

"There's a lot of preventative work that needs to go into it."

A Bedfordshire Police spokeswoman said: "We take all allegations seriously no matter how young the individuals involved are.

"However, I would like to point out that most of these figures would cover things like bullying issues and lower level assaults between children of a school age."

Sheila raps council for 'unfair' move solution

EXCLUSIVE

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@lutononsunday.co.uk

SHEILA Beatty has been asked to consider moving out of her beloved flat - to prevent the possibility of people terrorising her.

Miss Beatty, of Roebuck Close, was tormented by a previous neighbour, a man in his 30s, who had to be moved by Luton Borough Council after a catalogue of anti-social behaviour complaints.

She says when she complained to the authority she was told she should consider moving to sheltered accommodation.

Miss Beatty, 72, said: "I do not think it is fair. I have lived in this house since 1999 and I am not the kind of person who needs to go into sheltered accommodation.

"The council placed a man in the flat above who was awful, he would kick my door whenever he came home in the middle of the night.

"I was terrified. Everyone else in this building is older like me and it was horrible for all of us.

"Whenever I phoned to tell the council they kept suggesting that I should look into moving into sheltered accommodation.

"I am shocked that they would suggest it.

"I always pay my rent and council tax I shouldn't be forced to move somewhere so they can move younger people in."

A council spokesman said: "There is a high proportion of older residents in this general needs block because it is popular and many people have stayed for a long time but it is intended for the use of all age groups and cannot be restricted for older people.

"As Miss Beatty had told us about difficulties experienced at her address, we presented an option that she could think about moving to a sheltered scheme as she may find the environment more suitable for her.

"This was not meant to cause any offence, similar suggestions are often made to older residents to consider if they might find the idea appropriate.

"In sheltered housing residents still have their own flats and live independently."

Cops' action on allotment thefts leaves OAP fuming

EXCLUSIVE

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@lutononsunday.co.uk

A PENSIONER is upset about how the police have dealt with a spate of thefts at allotments in which equipment worth £3,000 was stolen.

George Clare, who is secretary of Luton Federation of Allotments, said incidents at around six sites have been reported to police but investigations 'have not gone much further'.

He also wrote to Luton Chief Superintendent, Mike Colbourne, to explain his dismay but has yet to hear anything back.

The thefts, which now total about £3,000 worth of tools, including mechanical items, began last May. No one has been arrested.

Mr Clare, 75, said: "I just haven't heard anything from the police. I wrote a letter to them and I got a reply to say they had received my letter."

"They don't seem to have investigated anything at all. One gentleman had just bought a brand new lawnmower. It really is upsetting for all of us."

"We had a break-in at Stockwood Park and everything was new and it was all taken."

"It was really annoying. It just seems the police aren't willing to investigate or help us with anything."

"I even took something to the station myself so they could take fingerprints and they wouldn't do it because it had got wet and they said it was useless now."

A police spokesman said: "Bedfordshire Police take allotment crime very seriously and investigate every incident as fully as possible."

"We work closely with allotment holders wherever possible to advise them on their security."

"Unfortunately allotment sheds can be quite vulnerable targets and we do advise allotment holders not to keep valuable items in them and to ensure they are secured with strong locks."

Shots 'a repeat of an attack in 2007'

EXCLUSIVE

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE house which was shot at last weekend was the target of a previous attack four years ago.

That is the claim of a resident who lives in Millfield Road, Luton, where three windows were smashed when shots were fired at the family home in the early hours of last Sunday.

No one was injured but, according to neighbours, the house is no stranger to such crimes.

One resident, who wanted to remain anonymous, said: "About four years ago there was a shooting there and also a car was vandalised so badly it was written off. "They had to install CCTV after that happened. It's not really a surprise that it happened because we are used to it now."

A Bedfordshire police spokeswoman said they were unable to comment on specific incidents in the past relating to the house targeted on Sunday.

She said: "There was a shooting in that road in 2007 but we would not comment so early on in this investigation and our investigation is still ongoing."

There were reports of a small, black car leaving the scene on Sunday.

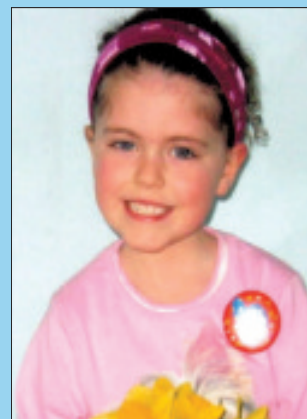

It was the second shooting in less than a week in the town after two University of Bedfordshire students were shot in a doorstep attack in Ashton Road last Tuesday. Two 26-year-old men were taken to hospital with stomach injuries.

Media release for Luton Diving Scheme TALENT IDENTIFICATION FOR DIVING

Could your child be the next Thomas Daley?

Luton Diving Programme, based at Wardown Swimming and Leisure Centre, is looking for children aged 6 - 11 years who show an aptitude for competitive diving with a view to fast-tracking them in the sport.

During the winter term 2009 coaches from the programme visited selected Primary Schools in a search for new talent. Children undertook a series of simple exercises designed to demonstrate their suitability for inclusion in the scheme. The coaches are looking for children who are up for a challenge, well co-ordinated and flexible. They also need to have a competitive streak.

Six of the selected children competed in the England Talent Games, against divers from selected other clubs, most of whom had been diving twice as long. After only 9 months, the Luton Kingfisher Team finished in 2nd place. These 6 children, ranging from 8 to 11 years old are now on the England Eastern Region Squad.

Jackie Hazelton, Diving Development Officer at the Luton Diving Scheme, has now decided to issue an open invitation to members of the public to take part in the assessment. "We are committed to searching out the children with the greatest potential to succeed," she explained. "We are incredibly fortunate in Luton to have the prospect of a new 10m facility being opened in the next 2 years. We will have some of the best resources in the country and will have even greater opportunities to take youngsters right to the top of the sport and we want to make sure that we offer that chance to anyone who is able to embrace it and make the most of their talent."

If you think your child may show the attributes needed to become a successful diver and would like them to take part in Phase 1 of testing, please contact Jackie Hazelton 0769797070 to obtain an application form. At this stage children do not necessarily need to be able to swim.

There will be two dates for the first stage of testing, which will take place at Wardown Swimming and Leisure Centre
Saturday 5th March 2011
Saturday 3rd April 2011
You will only need to attend one of these. The session is free of charge.

Complaints against police climb by seven per cent

BY CHRISTINA JOHNSON
christina.johnson@lutononsunday.co.uk

MORE than 300 people complained about Bedfordshire Police in last year.

The Independent Police Complaints Commission (IPCC) published its annual statistics for 2009/10 which show 352 people complained – a seven per cent increase on the previous year. The national average rise was eight per cent.

The complaints comprised a total of 561 allegations last year – an increase on 527 for the previous year.

There were 164 allegations of neglect of duty compared to 130 in 2008/09, 48 for assault compared to 30 in 2008/9 and 80 for incivility compared to 104 in 2008/9.

Bedfordshire IPCC Commissioner Rachel Cerfontyne said: "Last year there was a further increase in the number of people complaining about the police."

"The number of 'rude and late' complaints highlights the standards expected of the police service and the need to improve how they interact with the public.

"However, while some aspects can be improved without cost, such as through better leadership, smaller police budgets will present a challenge around levels of service and public expectation.

"This will require forces to develop an open dialogue with the public."

Chief constable Alf Hitchcock said: "Each day Bedfordshire Police deals with around 1,700 calls for service.

"We have one of the lowest number of complaints in the country and also one of the highest number of those resolved locally rather than needing investigation.

"While this shows Bedfordshire in a good light we do take all complaints very seriously and are keen to ensure that we understand the reason for them and address these to improve our service to our local communities."

Burglars take handbag from elderly woman as she sat in her own home

AN ELDERLY woman had her handbag pulled from her as she sat on her sofa in her own home.

Last Thursday at about 6.30pm two men entered her house in St Thomas' Road, Luton, through an insecure door.

The victim was sitting on her settee at the time and was pushed by one of the burglars who grabbed her bag from her hands before both left the scene.

Inside the handbag was a large amount of cash, and police are keen to trace anyone who saw the two men in the St Thomas' Road area before or after the offence.

The offenders are described as two white men, about 5'8" tall and wearing dark clothing.

Anyone with information can contact police, in confidence, on 01234 841212 or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

Balanced view on bans

SIR - I have read various letters condemning the English Defence League's (EDL) march and can well understand the concern of citizens who merely want to go about their business in peace.

What I did notice, however, was that none of the letters condemning the EDL mentioned or criticised marches and demonstrations carried out by Muslim extremists, although provocative banners are carried.

Why call for one set of demonstrations to be banned but not others?

The EDL claims that it was formed to counter-act marches and demonstrations carried out by Muslim extremists.

Readers must surely have read the article in last Sunday's edition that reported the appeal of five Muslim men to have their public order offences overturned was rejected by two judges.

The judges ruled that the banners carried by the men, which included accusations of our troops being 'rapists, murderers, and baby killers', went well beyond legitimate expression of protests.

In addition to the above mentioned banners we have all seen Muslim extremists carrying banners calling for 'death to all non-believers' (that of course is anybody who is not a Muslim).

To the best of my knowledge the EDL did not carry any banners calling for the death of all non-Christians. Imagine the uproar if such banners had been displayed. It seems strange therefore that the Unite Against Fascism movement has never opposed any Muslim extremist demonstration or marches, despite the fact that offensive banners were displayed.

The question I have to ask is 'why?'
Name and address supplied

Uncover the real issues

SIR - I find it's the often overlooked little details that pose bigger questions?

For instance, I found it odd that Luton North Labour MP Kelvin Hopkins should say 'The EDL is completely out of place in Luton' as the movement was founded by constituents of and in the town.

Now to the bigger question - what is the place of both of our MPs, including Luton South Labour MP Gavin Shuker, and MEP Richard Howitt who attended and spoke at the counter demonstration organised by the UAF?

Unite Against Fascism (UAF), the keyword here is 'fascism' - why fascism and not 'extremism'?

The answer is in the UAF membership that reads like a who's who of Marxist socialists and left wing 'extremists'.

Unfortunately, there's an inconvenient truth they're either ignorant of or choose to ignore that fascism was borne out of Marxism - in essence, two sides of the same coin.

The UAF is no more than a self-serving cover for left wing politicians who exploit any cause or unrest for their own political ends using their label of choice, 'fascism', to stifle debate or discussion and vilify anyone with whom they disagree.

Mr Hopkins called for a ban of the march, but as a member of the UAF

Highlighting the positives in Luton

SIR - As Mayor of Luton, I would like to step up to the challenge to redress the balance of how national newspaper journalism often publishes negative sensationalism, and does not give recognition to, or publish articles on, the strong values and diverse community links Luton has to offer.

I am sure there are few towns throughout England that could match the generosity and charitable works of the people of Luton.

The town has a diverse population and culture to be proud of - Luton in Harmony, Luton Council of Faiths - working together to achieve greater integration while respecting the faiths and beliefs of all.

The University of Bedfordshire is helping young people to achieve their educational potential and secure a promising future.

Parks and open spaces across the town have achieved green flag status.

Stockwood Park and Discovery centre is a magnificent representation of education, history, entertainment, sport and leisure for all the people in Luton, and visitors to the town. Sports and leisure facilities include a new Olympic-sized swimming pool under construction.

Sports clubs and associations, from all areas and cultures in Luton, compete and gain proud recognition for their town in national events, and there is investment and regeneration by local and national companies, not to mention transport links used by millions.

These are but a few of the positive aspects of the town. Labour Councillor Tom Shaw Mayor of Luton his position is far from impartial. Was it through 'fear of violence' or a desire to silence opposition? Assuming 'fear of violence', our MPs could do well to look at the antics of UAF members brought before the courts for their violence.

Instead of taking political sides and upping the ante, is it not the duty of our elected representatives to represent 'all constituents' and where conflict arises in our community, foster a spirit of reasoned discussion and reconciliation between the parties?

Lest we forget the other side of the coin, the fields from Poland to China bear testimony to 100,000,000 humans killed by those in pursuit of socialist ideology Marxist and nationalist. Indeed those of spiritual faith may label this 'extreme atheism', for Stalin, Hitler and Mao, to name a few all presided over religious, racial, and ethnic persecution, as well as genocide.

As George Santayana said, 'those who cannot remember the past are condemned to repeat it'.
Tony Bartoletti Swasedale Road, Luton

Rodent 'in da house. . .'

SIR - So David Cameron has recently acquired a tabby cat named Larry as it has been discovered that a rat has been scampering in and around Downing Street over the past few weeks.

However, am I honestly alone in thinking that the rodent currently in residence at number 11 is the real culprit, as he continues to gnaw away happily at the public purse and other essential commodities, thereby causing mass destruction for one and all?

It has to be said that no cat on earth has any real interest whatsoever in munching away endlessly at this particular breed, which is just as well, as quite apart from anything else Larry and co would inevitably develop severe chronic indigestion which would no doubt lead to an almighty abdominal volcanic type eruption or far worse still, sudden death.

Do the decent thing Mr C - arrange for the rat next door to be done away with immediately, preferably by giving him a lethal dose of warfarin.

Sue Goddard Toddington Road, Luton

Confused. . . or not?

SIR - I do not like David Cameron's idea of private companies taking over public sector jobs.

The bosses of private companies tend to pay themselves large salaries, with gold-plated pensions, while the workers who get their hands dirty are on low wages.

Oh, hang on - I have just described what happens in the both sectors, private or public.

They're as bad as one another.

John Tucker Bracklesham Gardens, Luton

Big Society at work

SIR - How sad to hear about the closure of the LuDun factory in Dunstable, but for those of us that don't share the Tory beliefs, how typical.

David Cameron has recently been quoted in saying he wants to protect the vulnerable in society and all his disciples agree with him - so why have local councillors not towed the line? Every one of us in the country, region and locally are aware that there is a current economic crisis and that we must 'do our bit' to help, but from listening to the radio, proposals were put forward to help save these jobs.

The council stated that LuDun cannot continue in its current form so why could the council not work in partnership with a local business to turn the fate of the factory around? Probably because those at the Town Hall couldn't be bothered, all they are concerned with are pound signs - typical business policy, typical Tory policy. The money is better off in their pockets rather than in the majority's pockets where it can be spent and increase wealth distribution.

What will happen to these workers? Will they find alternative employment? I fear not. What business will employ them?

Under the Disability Discrimination Act disabled people have to be treated fairly and if that means a company has to make some adjustments to its building like ramps or hand rails then it should - but most of them do not because to them it is not cost effective, so these workers have stumbled before they even get in the door.

If they do find other employment it will almost certainly be at a lower wage and fewer hours. So what about the man or woman who has a family and mortgage to support with a bit of self respect?

These people have skills the same as able-bodied people, they have families the same as able-bodied people, they have feelings and emotions and they also have the same rights. This is the Tory Big Society - get rid of the vulnerable then they can't complain.

Do we want them to be just another statistic? Definitely not and I'm sure neither do these workers.

Name and address supplied

Who's in charge here?

SIR - After ten years of the new deal Marsh Farm has a big new centre in the middle.

There has been lots of negative press over the years but now with this new centre employing local people and getting youngsters involved maybe things are looking up for the future.

Rumours around the estate are that there are going to be lots of local services operating from there, our kids will get discounts from the play park, other things will be located in the centre and there will be a number of permanent staff employed from our community.

The only issue is that residents don't know who is leading or managing this new centre.

It would be useful for everyone if these three questions could be answered because I am sure everyone in the north and in other parts of Luton are interested in knowing:

■ What exactly will be in the new building?
■ How much discount do Marsh Farm kids get considering the amount of resident money spent on the building and play park?

How many local people are going to be employed and when will jobs for locals be advertised?

Mrs Stevens Address supplied

Voting for AV voting

SIR - Many people will have seen the political starting gun fired by those on both sides of the argument on the issue of fair votes which will decide if we stick with the status quo of the first-past-the-post system or move to the alternative vote (commonly known as AV).

As a member of the Liberal Party, we have for many years supported proportional representation via the single transferable vote.

However we recognise that it's AV that is the option being put before the people of this country and therefore it's essential that the electorate embraces the change on offer.

There will be those resistant to change who will bandy about scare stories of a change to the way we vote leading to weak government.

Be under no illusion - those who embrace our current system only want it kept in place not because it damages democracy (as they would have you believe), but because it will disrupt the cosy two-party system that suits the dinosaurs in both the Conservative and Labour Parties.

It's time that the road to electoral reform was unlocked.

It's time for the stale, out of date first-past-the-post system was consigned to a bygone era and the stepping stones for electoral reform are set down and give you, the voter, more fairness on May 5.

Peter Burrows Member of the Liberal Party NEC Saxon Close, Dunstable

Climb every mountain

SIR - I am writing on behalf of the Meningitis Trust to encourage all of your readers who would like to take part in a truly memorable experience this year, by scaling the heights of the UK's highest mountains in 36 hours, to get in touch.

We are running two 36-hour Three Peaks Challenges (May 13-15 and July 8-10). Both will start off at Snowdon in North Wales.

Participants will then be taken by coach to the bottom of Scafell Pike in the Lake District - to trek Scafell in the dark. Finally the team will be whisked up to Scotland to climb the highest of the three mountains, Ben Nevis.

Over the past 13 years that the Trust has run this event, more than 700 participants have taken part, raising almost £900,000. And as a charity that relies solely on voluntary donations to continue its work, the Three Peaks Challenges have been vital to its future.

The Meningitis Trust helps around 20,000 people each year through its unique range of professional services and community support; giving vital support to those who have been affected by this life-changing disease.

AN EVENT to celebrate the 'pride' of an estate in Houghton Regis took place last week.

A number of actions were carried out on Tuesday including the clearance by Central Bedfordshire Council's waste team of 1.7 tonnes of rubbish, including a dining room table and a settee.

The environment team also cut back overgrown hedges, while Bedfordshire Police provided a mobile station and gave out information on safety and preventing burglaries.

The fire service carried out a 'walkaround' with 20 potential risk areas being identified and cleared, and the Driver and Vehicle Licensing Agency clamped three vehicles including one which had a Statutory Off Road Notification.

Vehicle Licensing Agency

Suggestions were also made to the housing team about how to combat anti-social behaviour, and Trading Standards handed out leaflets about a range of topics from scams to consumer complaints.

A JUDGE berated a son for subjecting his mother to a 'sustained and inhumane' assault while he was on cocaine.

Dawn Bird, the mother of Daniel Bird, of Trident Drive, Houghton Regis, told police that he had behaved 'like a monster' as he punched and kicked her all over her body.

But she had written a letter to the Judge to say she was still standing by him.

On Tuesday, Judge Michael Kay QC told 25-year-old Bird: "Your mother is a frail lady in her 60s and she was defenceless against you. You used her as a punch bag. Witnesses could not even see the skin on her face because she was so covered in blood.

"You are fortunate indeed to have a mother who will stand by you despite all that."

Bird pleaded guilty at Luton Crown Court to assault causing actual bodily harm, common assault on a neighbour who came to his mother's aid, cultivating cannabis plants in his bedroom and possessing a CS gas canister. He was jailed for a total of 26 months.

Simon Stirling, prosecuting, said the neighbour heard Bird threaten to murder his mother and went to her aid. He was punched to the ground and the defendant fled.

When arrested he admitted assaulting her.

Police also discovered 48 cannabis plants growing in his bedroom, and the CS gas on him when arrested.

Imran Khan, defending, said Bird had a troubled background. He had begun using cannabis at 12, and hard drugs at 16. His father had died when he was 21 and he suffered from agoraphobia.

He said: "But many people speak kindly of him, and he pleaded guilty to the assault charge even though he knew his mother was not supporting the prosecution."

A less than charitable view of chuggers' art

It is difficult to walk down a High Street these days without being chugged. Chuggers is the new term for people stopping you and asking if you have a few minutes for a good cause.

Charity muggers, as they were known, have been abbreviated, unlike their constant questioning and chatter.

There was a time when people collecting for charity would stand in a quiet dignified manner, hoping to tweak the conscience of those passing by. Unfortunately most people did pass by, so marketing men were brought in and a more aggressive approach adopted. Especially as the new ploy is to get people to donate regularly on a standing order, rather than just drop their loose change into a bucket.

Gone are the quiet middle-aged folk in caps and bonnets, replaced by young, thrusting future sales executives, dressed in tabards and honing their skills on a bewildered, and increasingly frustrated, public.

And, of course, the companies hiring out these budding entrepreneurs do not do it for free, so charities need them to be aggressive to get their costs back, let alone going into a surplus. I have always had mixed views about charity, applauding many who turn out to boost such campaigns as research into breast cancer but somewhat dubious about those who 'do things for charity'.

It often seems more about them than the charity. And why does this country have children in need? Despite this Government's best efforts, we are still a relatively wealthy country and should be ashamed if people have to sit in baths of baked beans for a day so that children can be fed, clothed and educated.

I see a change from a polite refusal on the High Street these days, more a grimace and upraised hand, as what is seen as emotional blackmail and harassment is used to elicit direct debits from the shopping public

I digress. Back to chuggers who are meeting resistance as their numbers are increasing and attitude hardening.

I see a change from a polite refusal on the High Street these days, more a grimace and upraised hand, as what is seen as emotional blackmail and harassment is used to elicit direct debits from the shopping public.

Some councils are even taking action to restrict the chuggers, both in number, time they can be on the street and location.

The trouble is it is likely to get worse, as cuts in public services means that more and more work will fall on to charities at a time when most people will have less and less disposable income.

The Big Society could turn High Streets into charity war-zones as shoppers run the gauntlet of chuggers thrusting clip-boards in their faces while trying to avoid the homeless sitting near the doorways with their dogs on a string.

And more and more people might be saying that charity begins at home.

Cash cuts could hit advice service

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@lutononsunday.co.uk

FREE legal advice to Luton residents is under threat by proposed Government cuts.

The Ministry of Justice announced changes in November that, should they be given the go-ahead, would shake up the entire legal aid system.

But Luton Advice Network (LAN), a collaboration between Luton Rights, Luton Citizen's Advice Bureau (CAB) and Luton Law Centre, is worried funding reductions would reduce the quality of its service.

The plans are intended to cut the national legal aid bill by £350 million a year by 2015.

LAN co-ordinator Jason Tspiricos said: "If the proposed cuts to legal aid go through they will seriously threaten the continued existence of the independent free advice services in Luton like the CAB, Luton Rights and the Law Centre.

"This will leave thousands of people without access to advice about issues like welfare benefits, housing and debt, and is likely to worsen the number of Luton residents living in poverty."

Ray Sprigg (pictured), spokesman for Luton CAB, said: "As far as we are concerned at the CAB, we are looking at cuts in our funding which is going to result in possible redundancies, possible reduction in our hours and reductions in our legal services.

"The level for what we are doing over debt is more than £1 million per month for Luton clients.

"This is an ongoing and massive problem and we'll have a reduction in funding to deal with it.

"We are facing restrictions on our services. All organisations within the LAN are facing cuts.

"We're now waiting for the white paper to come out but from the proposals we know the cuts will be swingeing.

"Without doubt the people who will suffer the most are those who can least afford it."

Justice Minister Jonathan Djanogly said: "At more than £2 billion a year, we pay far more per head than most other countries for legal aid.

"The current system encourages lengthy, acrimonious and sometimes unnecessary court proceedings, at taxpayers' expense, which do not always ensure the best result for those involved.

"We need to make clear choices to ensure that legal aid will continue to be available in those cases that really require it, the protection of the most vulnerable in society, and the efficient performance of the justice system.

"Our proposals aim to radically reform the system and encourage people to take advantage of the most appropriate sources of help, advice or routes to resolution – which will not always involve the expense of lawyers or courts."

Tough times ahead its plans to reduce

MORE than 250 Luton Borough Council staff will be lost through compulsory redundancies, while 50 will be axed on a voluntary basis.

More than 100 currently vacant posts will also go.

There will be 127 full time roles (of which 37 are vacant) going in support services and management posts across the chief executive's department, corporate and customer services, performance management jobs across the council, property services, HR and finance.

The axe will fall on another 102 (of which 21 are vacant) in the children and learning department and 75 (of which 17 are vacant) in housing and community living, including 45 at The Mount Care Home, with a further 17 in administrative support.

Finally, 56 posts (of which 24 are vacant) in the environment and regeneration department will be lost, largely through restructuring by integrating the highways maintenance and engineering and transportation teams.

That is the massive fall out from cuts made necessary by the Government's drive to reduce spending.

These tough decisions fell mainly on the shoulders of Labour Councillor Robin Harris (right), who said: "We have got to make £20 million of savings. It's about doing it in a way so that things are more efficient."

"So back office staff were the real focus. We said we would not cut front-line services."

"We find out what it is that the customer values most and least and the way staff go about doing their job."

"If somebody takes three or four weeks to do a job then that is a waste of resources and we have to figure out why it is taking so long."

"We may have an idea of how a service should be delivered but that is not what the customer

F The financial challenge facing all councils is unprecedented, and based on the Government's spending review figures, further major cost savings will be required on an ongoing basis for four years."

as council is making its budget by £20m

THE country has been facing an unprecedented level of financial woe, with cuts hitting public services left, right and centre. Luton Borough Council, which will axe 409 posts, revealed its annual budget last week. Reporter SOPHIE SCOTT explains where the bulk of the jobs will go from, and spoke to the Town Hall's councillor responsible for finance, Robin Harris.

wants, so really we should be doing something else. Hopefully it will improve the way we deliver our services. That's what we wanted: how can we improve what we do?

"I know that we invested £1.2 million in the Luton Excellence team and we are getting a return of £11 on every £1 we have spent."

David Kempson, the council's head of finance, said: "We continue to work to try to minimise the redundancies that need to be made while ensuring that we achieve the savings necessary to deliver the 2011/12 budget."

"The numbers of potential redundancies have reduced since we set the budget and we will continue to use our best endeavours to reduce them further."

"However, the financial challenge facing all councils is unprecedented, and based on the Government's spending review figures, further major cost savings will be required on an ongoing basis for four years."

This year's cuts are just the start of it though. Next year the council is looking to save £15 million.

Cllr Harris said: "I realise how painful it is for people. We are facing a 45 per cent cut in our budget over the next four years. We will do everything we possibly can to protect frontline staff."

"I wish I could say this was the only job losses, but this is the first round."

"It is really, really difficult. I am a Luton taxpayer, I live in Luton and I receive the same sort of services as everyone else so I am affected by the cuts too."

"There are people who work really hard and are really committed to their job and I genuinely don't believe it needs to be like it is. The Government could do something to slow the cuts so they are not as frontloaded as they are. It makes life really, really difficult."

Council near front in 'Race to Zero Waste'

christina.johnson@lutononsunday.co.uk

CENTRAL Bedfordshire Council received a 'glowing endorsement' after it came sixth in a table which lists authorities tackling waste.

The council was the highest performing in the Eastern region in the Resource Media's 'Race to Zero Waste' rankings.

In 2009 Resource Media decided the best way to judge progression towards zero waste was to start measuring performance around the UK according to the amount of black bin waste produced per household.

A clear trend found was that the separate collection of food waste, a process used in the north of Central Bedfordshire, was a distinctive feature of the services provided by the authorities with the lowest residual waste per household.

It was also discovered that many of the high performers provide collection of residual waste every other week.

In Central Bedfordshire, there are weekly collections alternating between residual waste and recyclable items.

Cllr David McVicar said: "It is becoming clear that those living in Central Bedfordshire are really thinking about what they are throwing away and what they are choosing to recycle or compost."

"By reducing the amount of waste our residents create and recycling as much as possible, it not only keeps the amount of waste going to landfill down, but it also saves the authority from year on year increases in landfill tax."

Motorway speeding fines rake in £180k

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@lutononsunday.co.uk

FINES for speeding through the roadworks on the M1 have totalled more than £180,000 in six months.

Figures released through the Freedom of Information Act show that, between June and the end of December last year on the motorway, 3,046 fixed penalty notices were handed out.

This works out, on average, at 435 fines per month. At £60 per penalty, that makes a total of £182,760.

A speed restriction of 50mph is currently in place between Junctions 10 and 13 while roadworks are taking place to widen the road.

A police spokesman said: "The cameras have been placed to both protect the workers on the road and those using the motorway. These figures not only prove that the cameras are working but also that a considerable number of drivers are not taking care through these roadworks."

The Highways Agency is making improvements to the M1 between Junctions 10 and 13 'to cope with the high volume of traffic by relieving congestion and reducing delays, leading to more reliable journeys'.

A hard shoulder running scheme is being put in place between the junctions to be used as a fourth lane at busy times. The scheme replaces the original motorway widening project which would have taken the M1 between the junctions up to four lanes.

Construction for the improvements to Junctions 11 and 12 will begin this month and will be completed in spring 2013.

Last chance to join in carnival pageant

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@lutononsunday.co.uk

TIME is running out if you want to apply to be part of the UK's largest one-day carnival.

Plans are already under way for the return of Luton International Carnival, which is coming to town on Bank Holiday Monday, May 30.

The event will showcase the best in regional, national and international carnival arts.

On offer will be live music, dance, masquerade, sound systems, street arts and a spectacular parade displaying the rich carnival tapestry of costumes, dance, mas band and floats.

If you would like to participate in this event as a trader (catering, general, fundraising, craft or rides and amusements), you have until Monday to apply.

Andy Grays, Director of Arts, said: "It takes a year to plan an event of this size which brings on average 80,000 people together to enjoy the spectacular parade, music and food from across the globe."

"This year the main focus will be on showcasing homegrown talent and regional artists giving them an opportunity to perform live in front of thousands of people."

Last year's spectacular extravaganza

Cllr Mohammed Ashraf said: "Every year Luton International Carnival brings thousands of people from different ages and cultures together to celebrate the diversity and heritage of our town."

"It's a fantastic event showcasing what Luton has to offer artistic flair and a wealth of talents and skills."

"And having a reputation of being one of the safest carnivals in the country it's a great day out for all the family."

Application for trade pitches is likely to exceed supply and if necessary, a selection policy will be applied with preference given to those who live or work in Luton, and where possible, to those who have attended the event previously.

You can download an application form at www.lutoncarnival.co.uk or either contact Luton Culture on 01582 878100 or email carnival@lutonculture.com for more information.

Organisations interested in sponsoring the carnival, should contact Amanda Roopra, sponsorship and advertising officer on 01582 547325, email Amanda.roopra@luton.gov.uk For more information visit www.lutoncarnival.co.uk

Faced with spiralling bills, shoppers are seeking-out better deals in our town centre market. That's according to David Gibbs, the Operations Manager responsible for the market inside the Mall Centre, Luton. "In a recent survey, the average cost of a basket of good in our market was shown to be over 11 percent cheaper than the same basket taken from our local supermarkets. "Luton shoppers have a keen sense for a bargain and our market is all about value for money. It's nice to see our market starting to enjoy a renaissance – back to the days when it was the heart of the community. We like to continue this trend, but with a 20th century twist, we have tried our hands at two Guinness World Record attempts, failing miserably on both occasions but the traders and our customers had fun trying and raised much needed funds for our nominated charity, the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit for the Luton & Dunstable Hospital".

Gibbs continued "We have so many different things going on over the next year, with Gospel Choirs, local musicians, art shows, and numerous Guinness World Record attempt".

"We have an important role in keeping our town centre market vibrant and making a shopping visit much more than trudging up and down isles of supermarket." Gibbs concluded.

REMEMBERING THE MUSIC:
The Counterfeit Stones

A rocking tribute to the Stones that hits the mark

MUSIC

EXHALE ON MAIN STREET FEATURING THE COUNTERFEIT STONES

Alban Arena, St Albans
Friday, 8pm

THE COUNTERFEIT Stones follow their hugely successful 2010 tour, 'Get off my Chord' with 'Exhale on Main Street'.

The band would like to invite you to put two sticky fingers up at the credit crunch and join them in their cut price multi-media rock 'n' roll extravaganza at the Alban Arena.

Their skillfully mixed cocktail of classic hits, retro costumes and humour continues to intoxicate young and old alike - 100 per cent proof that a good shot always hits the target.

The show is essentially a musical mockumentary of the Rolling Stones' colourful history from 1962 and chronologically takes you through five memorable decades.

You can enjoy outstandingly accurate renditions of the Rolling Stones' hits, outrageous outfits and a series of spoof film clips to cover the costume changes.

Tickets cost £19 and are available from www.alban-arena.co.uk or from the box office on 01727 844488.

Don't be the Odd Man Out by missing Clements' show

MUSIC

ROD CLEMENTS

The Hat Factory, Luton
Friday, 8pm

His vocal delivery, at once throwaway and passionate, is complemented by his expertise on both dobro and acoustic six-string and his laid back conversational presentation.

Tickets cost £9 and are available from www.thehatfactory.org or by ringing the box office on 01582 878100.

educate & learn something new today

School days - 'the happiest days of your life?' Sadly, not for everyone.

returning to learning

But if you slipped through the education net first time round there's another chance for you to gain skills and qualifications that can help open up new options for work and further study or just make everyday things - such as helping your child with their homework - easier.

Improving your reading, writing and number skills can give you confidence you never knew you had. There's a wide range of courses you can take to help boost your skills. Some of these can lead to a qualification.

You'll be able to learn in your local area, and in a way that suits your lifestyle: part time, full time, during the day or in the evening. And you'll be with other like-minded adults. It's not at all like being at school.

If you are not sure whether you can commit to a full course it's worth checking if your local learning provider runs 'taster' courses.

Local competition launched for Aspiring Secretaries

Pitman Training Luton is celebrating the relaunch of its Legal Secretarial Diploma by holding a typing competition for readers who aspire to become accomplished administration professionals or career secretaries.

The competition asks readers to take an online typing test in Pitman Training based in Luton Town Centre plus write in fewer than 25 words why a Pitman Training Secretarial course will benefit them. The prize for the best performer is a Free Legal Secretarial Diploma worth £2,850.

Conrad Wilson, from Pitman Training Luton, said "It's been manic. Recently we've had a surge of enquiries from local law firms and recruitment agencies asking us to send them our secretarial students for urgent work.

"With this in mind, we at Pitman Training Luton re-launched the Diploma to equip potential legal secretaries with the education, skills and information needed to thrive in their careers. In our new Legal Secretarial Diploma we've added free legal CV makeover and interview training to help them get the job.

"With many of our learners going on to enjoy success working within legal departments, law firms and large public sector organisations some of whom are earning £27k plus per year in the City, we want to highlight how valuable the role of a secretary is within an organisation."

Legal secretaries play a vital role in taking on the workload of lawyers, so that the lawyer is free to generate more fees for their firm. This new course brings the world of the legal secretary into the classroom.

To enter the competition call Pitman Training Luton on 01582 402622.

Hernandez double tops shatter Wigan

MANCHESTER UNITED restored their four-point lead over Arsenal at the top of the Premier League as two goals by Javier Hernandez guided them to a 4-0 win at struggling Wigan.

The Latics could have taken the lead before Sir Alex Ferguson's team went ahead following a trademark quick break.

Nani collected the ball and exchanged two quick passes with Wayne Rooney before the Portuguese played a ball in from the left which found Hernandez, who nipped in front of goalkeeper Ali Al Habsi and flicked the ball home. The Mexican got his second when he was played through by a first-time Rooney pass and calmly slotted past Al Habsi.

Rooney made it three when Dimitar Berbatov collected a ball over the top and raced towards goal where he passed to the England striker, who finished with ease. And Fabio wrapped up victory two minutes after coming on as substitute.

Two goals by Ashley Young guided ASTON VILLA to a vital 4-1 win against BLACKBURN.

WOLVES moved out of the relegation zone after a 4-0 win over BLACKPOOL at Molineux.

Blackpool were reduced to 10 men when DJ Campbell was given a straight red card for pushing Richard Stearnman in the face.

The match had been overshadowed by the news of the death of former defender Dean Richards after a long illness. He was 36. NEWCASTLE drew 1-1 with BOLTON despite having Ryan Taylor sent off for a two-footed lunge on Elmander, and Jermaine Beckford scored twice as EVERTON beat SUNDERLAND 2-0.

Wilshere vows to spark cup spree

JACK WILSHERE feels Arsenal are just too good not to be getting their hands on silverware and believes victory in the Carling Cup final against Birmingham today can be the start of bigger things.

The combative midfielder is enjoying his breakthrough season with Arsenal following a productive loan spell at Bolton, the 19-year-old making his full England debut against Denmark earlier this month.

Wilshere has found himself a central part of Arsene Wenger's young side, who must do without captain Cesc Fabregas and England winger Theo Walcott today because of injury.

However, despite all of their promise, the Gunners have not delivered any additions to the trophy cabinet since moving to Emirates Stadium in 2006.

With Arsenal still competing for honours at home and in Europe, Wilshere believes victory at Wembley can only lead to more success.

"This has been the best season I could have asked for. I have played for England and now am about to represent my club in a cup final, which is massive," he said.

"I am really looking forward to the game, it will be the biggest of my life so far. If we can win, it will give us confidence for the rest of the season.

CARLING CUP FINAL

ARSENAL V BIRMINGHAM 4pm, SS1

"It has been five years since Arsenal won anything and this team is too good not to win things.

"The cup final is a one-off game and anything can happen, so we have to be ready. "Hopefully we can do it for the fans and then bring more at the end of the season."

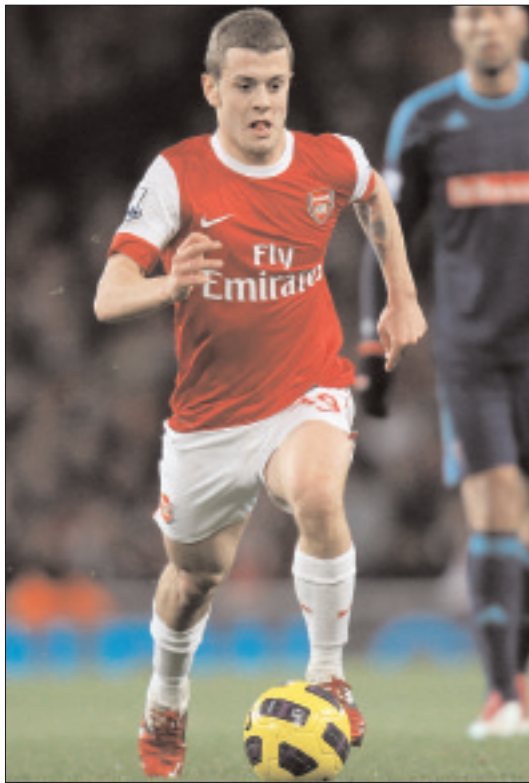

Wilshere feels the absence of Fabregas and Walcott can be used as a positive.

"Cesc is a great leader and if we win it, there will only be one person to go up and lift the trophy," he said.

Tomas Rosicky could be drafted into the starting XI, with Abou Diaby, just back from a three-match ban, another option should Wenger decide against bringing Samir Nasri in from his wide role.

At 30, Rosicky is one of the more senior members of the squad. He knows full well the impact victory at Wembley would have for the future.

"It will be important for the whole team. There are a lot of young guys here that haven't won a major trophy before so it could be a very big boost for everyone," he said.

England dig deep for victory

ENGLAND manager Martin Johnson was delighted that his side overcame an error-strewn first-half performance to beat France 17-9 and stay on course for an RBS 6 Nations Grand Slam.

England made far too many mistakes in the first half as they tried to force the pace in difficult handling conditions and went into the break all square at 9-9. But Johnson's men showed more composure in the second-half and Ben Foden claimed the only try of the match to put them on course for victory. Toby Flood kicked three first-half penalties and his replacement, Jonny Wilkinson, added a fourth.

"We didn't play well in the first half," said Johnson. "But we changed it at half-time. We sorted it out and we did better in the second half.

"It was a hard fought game. They came here to win a championship and I'm very happy with the victory."

Afridi's deadly spell has Sri Lanka reeling

SHAHID AFRIDI picked up four wickets as Pakistan defeated Sri Lanka by 11 runs in their World Cup Group A match in Colombo.

The skipper's magical spell of three for 34 came on the back of fine batting efforts by Misbah-ul-Haq (83 not out off 81 balls) and Younus Khan (72 off 76), who helped Pakistan to 277 for seven in 50 overs.

Chamara Silva (57) and Kumar Sangakkara (49) raised hopes of a successful chase, but were undone by four quick wickets midway through the innings as Sri Lanka eventually ended on 266 for nine.

A WATERLOGGED pitch caused the postponement of Dunstable Town's match away to Hillingdon Borough.

However they are back in action on Tuesday, away to Biggleswade United in the league, kick off at 7.45pm.

On Thursday they travel to Stotfold in the quarter final of the Challenge Trophy, again a 7.45pm kick off, before entertaining Langford at Creasey Park on Saturday.

SOUTH MIDLANDS DIV ONE

ALL games in this league were postponed due to waterlogged pitches.

CRAWLEY GREEN were due to play Hoddesdon Town at home, but will now continue their season against Bedford away next Saturday.

AFC DUNSTABLE'S game at home against Kings Langley suffered the same fate and will continue their fixtures mid-week against Berkhamstead at home in the League Challenge Cup, kick off at 7.45pm.

SOUTH MIDLANDS DIV TWO

ALL games in this division were postponed due to the adverse weather conditions.

The matches between Brache Sparta Community and Caddington, The 61FC and Totternhoe and Kent Athletic away to Old Bradwell United will all need to be rescheduled.

why the gaffer brought them in. They've got good movement; Jason did in the first half, but the gaffer thought he had to change it and brought Crowy on.

"He's a different type of player and that showed in the second half. It paid off and we got the win we needed.

"In training the gaffer rotates it and we play with each striker so you get to know how they play.

"Everybody knows they can play with each other."

The goal broke Barnes-Homer's own personal goal drought that had seen him fail to score since the 3-0 win over Rushden & Diamonds on New Year's Day.

He had also been left out of the squad last week by Money, but insisted he had no problem with that.

"That's why he is in charge - he makes those decisions and you just get on with it," he said.

"I was left out of the squad last week so I just got on with that, and then the gaffer put me back in today and I got my goal.

"I worked hard for the team because we were a bit unlucky first half, and then Crowy came on and changed the game.

"We started playing the ball around, started to open them up a bit more and saw the game out. It's good to get a clean sheet and win the game.

"We went out there, got the result and I'm just happy to be back in the team and get a goal."

FA TROPHY FOURTH ROUND

GUISELEY 0
LUTON TOWN 1

MATTHEW Barnes-Homer's first goal in a Luton Town shirt since January 1 proved enough to see them overcome a spirited Guiseley and book their place in the FA Trophy semi-finals.

The previous meeting between the sides had seen the Hatters ease through 4-0 in an FA Cup tie, but they had to work much harder at Nethermoor Park against the Blue Square Bet North high-flyers, who will feel they should have at least earned a replay.

Guiseley came into the tie on the back of their best FA Trophy run for 17 years.

Having already disposed of holders Barrow and Eastbourne Borough in this season's competition, they were confident of causing another upset against the Hatters and returning to the semi-finals.

That previous best had seen the likes of then-Conference teams Cheltenham Town and Morecambe fall by the wayside before the Yorkshire outfit went down to Runcorn over two legs.

Keen to avoid a similar giant-killing, Luton boss Richard Money named a side that was still strong despite six changes.

Nevertheless, the hosts took the game to their more illustrious opponents and came close to taking the lead in the third minute when Warren Peyton curled a shot just over the bar from 18 yards.

Luton were dealt a blow nine minutes later when Alex Lawless hobbled off with an injury.

He was replaced by Claude Gnaka, with Amari Morgan-Smith moving into central midfield.

However, they perhaps should have made more of an opening on 24 minutes.

Barnes-Homer broke down the left wing, beating the offside trap to latch onto a clearance, but his low cross aimed for Jason Walker was cleared by Simon Ainge.

Guiseley countered and would have surely broken the deadlock had Joe O'Neill been able to get

Promoter Goodwin hopes

LUTON boxer Michael Devine is set to make his return to the ring at the famous York Hall in Bethnal Green, London, with promoter Steve Goodwin predicting big things this year for the lightweight.

Devine won his first three professional fights but suffered his defeat on his 21st birthday to Mark Alexander back in April.

Previously with former WBU World Lightweight Champion Graham Earl, the puncher took a break from the ring but has now teamed up with trainer James Paisley and is planning a busy 2011.

Devine will appear on Goodwin's Unleash the Fury show on March 5, a 15-fight show which marks the Leighton Buzzard-based successful horse racing

KEEPING POSSESSION: Godfrey Poku evades a challenge

blasts Hatters one dream Wembley tie

a touch on a strike from just outside the box from James Walshaw.

Both sides were enjoying plenty of possession, although the Hatters were struggling to carve out clear cut chances.

Jake Howells did manage to pick out substitute Gnakpa with a cross, but he shot wide under pressure from Dave Merris on the half hour.

The best chance of the half for the visitors fell Morgan-Smith.

He went on a barnstorming run from the halfway line before unleashing a shot from 25 yards that Guiseley goalkeeper Steven Drench parried away.

Gnakpa went in for the follow-up, but Drench saved again.

As the first 45 minutes drew to a close, the home side were awarded a free kick 25 yards out when Keith Keane was deemed to have fouled O'Neill.

The striker got up to take the kick, but shot straight at Kevin Pilkington.

The Hatters goalkeeper also denied Walshaw as the sides entered half time all square.

Manager Money opted to bring on Danny

Crow for Walker at half time and the replacement made an immediate impact, providing a perfectly-weighted through ball for Barnes-Homer to latch onto before placing the ball into Drench's bottom right hand corner on 49 minutes.

Guiseley were momentarily shaken by this turn of events, having started the second period brightly and feeling they were denied a penalty when Walshaw and Zdenek Kroca came together in the box.

Having regained their composure, the hosts went back on the attack and won a free-kick from a similar distance as their earlier one.

This time it was Peyton who took it and saw his attempt just whistle past Pilkington's left post.

Meanwhile, the Hatters were looking to put the game to bed.

Drench had a routine save to make from a Kroca header on 67 minutes, but two minutes later did well to get down and save a shot from Howells after good work from Crow and Barnes-Homer.

Guiseley's persistence was reaping small rewards though and in the 77th minute

Pilkington did well to tip a fiercely-struck Peyton free kick over the bar with a one-handed save.

Determined to secure at least a replay, home boss Steve Kittrick brought on forwards Darryn Stamp and Luke Sharpy in a double substitution.

Guiseley also had a second penalty shout turned down by referee Stephen Martin in the closing minutes when Walshaw took a tumble in the box.

But Luton held on for a narrow win and it is them who go into the hat for Monday's semi-final draw.

Bright scores in a close match

MIDLANDS TWO EAST (SOUTH)
HUNTINGDON & DISTRICT 8
STOCKWOOD PARK 7

THIS two try game wasn't the most inspiring as Stockwood couldn't find that final ball to snatch victory.

The visitors started the brighter side as Alex Hunter ran down the wing to supply an eager Duncan Bright who broke through to touch down, with Steve Pollock converting.

The score at half-time remained 7-0.

Huntingdon and District stayed on the back foot in the second period, but Pollock missed a penalty and the opportunity to gain a substantial lead in this close affair.

The hosts broke on a counter attack from this and touched down, but with no conversion to make it 7-5.

On 65 minutes Huntingdon kicked a penalty to steal victory.

Devine can bounce back with a bang syndicate company owner's first year as a boxing promoter.

"We're going to see a lot of upcoming talent, as well as a couple of boxers who have the potential to go to British and European championship level," said the 48-year-old businessman.

"I'm personally excited to see the comeback of Michael Devine. He's a very, very exciting come-forward fighter. He lost in his last fight, on his 21st birthday, against Mark Alexander last year.

"He took some time out and got himself back together. He's working like a demon in the gym and I think this is the year we see Michael Devine progress through the ranks. Hopefully, by December we'll have Mark Alexander back in the ring with him so he can set the record straight."

The fight night also sees the return of another former Earl protege in unbeaten light middleweight Jamie Boness.

Cauley does himself proud as Peacock praises Hatter's debut England strike

ENGLAND Under-17 boss John Peacock hailed the impact of Luton Town teenager Cauley Woodrow who scored on his international debut to earn the Three Lions a point in their first game of the Algarve Tournament.

The 16-year-old earned a call-up after Liverpool's Adam Morgan withdrew from the squad and in doing so became the first player from a club outside the Football League to get selected for an England youth team in 37 years.

The striker impressed enough to be given his first start against Romania on Thursday and repaid head coach Peacock's faith with an equaliser to secure a 1-1 draw in Lagos, Portugal. "I'm pleased for Cauley, too," said Peacock. "It's quite rare that a player scores on their first international start and I'm sure he'll remember that for a very long time."

The Hatter will hope to have played himself into the reckoning for next month's UEFA European U17 Championship Elite Qualifying Round, which the Algarve Tournament is being used as preparation for.

Gabriel Iancu had given Romania a 25th minute lead after soaking up pressure from England's young guns but Woodrow netted four minutes into the second half.

"It was a big learning curve for the players in the first half," said Peacock. "They came up against something different than they are used to domestically, with Romania defending deep, but that's exactly the sort of challenge they will face at international level. That's also why we gave a couple of lads their first start because we are here to see everyone play to see what they can do in different circumstances."

After losing 3-1 to Germany on Friday, in which Woodrow came on as a 60th minute substitute, England, who won the Algarve Tournament last year, complete this season's challenge at 10am today with a final match against hosts Portugal.

CELEBRATIONS: Matthew Barnes-Homer joins the Hatters' fans after scoring

League still priority for Barnes-Homer

BY MARC BAZELEY

THOUGHTS of a Wembley cup final may be in the minds of Luton Town fans, but Matthew Barnes-Homer's attention is firmly back on the league after his goal saw the Hatter past Guiseley.

Barnes-Homer's 49th minute strike proved enough to see Luton through to the FA Trophy semi-finals and they now await to see who they play in Monday's draw. And while he is keen to play at the famous venue, the striker is more concerned about securing three points in the Blue Square Bet Premier against Forest Green Rovers on Tuesday.

"To be in the semis is nice, but that's not for a couple of weeks so we just concentrate on the league," said Barnes-Homer.

"The next game is Forest Green on Tuesday and then there's the next game after that.

"We're just taking each game as it comes.

"It's nice to have Wembley as a prize to aim for, so that's something to play for."

Barnes-Homer's goal came after a great pass from substitute Danny Crow put him through one-on-one with Guiseley goalie Steven Drench.

He had started the match alongside Jason Walker up front before manager Richard Money opted to switch things around, and praised both strike partners.

Barnes-Homer said: "They're great players and that's
